

TO BIND PEACE WITH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Proposed Covenant Will Be Woven Inseparably Into Preliminary Treaty.

PASSED ON AS UNIT
Senate Will Have to Accept or Reject Entire Peace Pact.

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

March 22.—The League of Nations commission, President Wilson presiding, met today to consider amendments to the covenant proposed by neutrals during the last two days.

While the constitution was being reshaped, the United Press was informed authoritatively that the American Senate will have to accept or reject the entire preliminary peace treaty, including the league covenant.

Separation of the covenant and the treaty as cabled from the United States, indicates that what the Republican senators are planning to do will be impossible under the program now being followed for drawing up the pact. Whether the covenant is in the body of the treaty or is attached as an appendix, it will be an integral part of the pact with interweaving of references to the covenant in articles fixing the terms of peace, it was learned authoritatively.

The thirteen neutrals participating in the League of Nations discussions were invited by Lord Cecil to become charter members of the league, together with the Allies and Associated Powers.

PARIS, March 22.—President Wilson is prepared to make a strong fight to compel the Senate to ratify the preliminary peace treaty containing the League of Nations, his close advisers declared today.

The President is represented as ready to carry his fight to the people after which, if his stand is endorsed, he will tell the Senate it must accept or reject the treaty as it stands, leaving the responsibility for rejection up to that body. Experts say the treaty will be indivisible and that the League must be considered an integral part.

The President is giving considerable attention to departmental finance, but has not yet reached any conclusion. It has been foreseen that some government branches will encounter some difficulty after May but the President is not able to give any more from the emergency appropriation.

While the President has not confided to anyone his idea concerning an extra session of Congress, persons close to him state it is likely he will return about May 15 or earlier.

HARRIS OFFERS RESOLUTION

Urges Uniformity in Establishing Misdemeanor Penalties.

The State Senate has adopted a joint resolution today, offered by Senator Frank G. Harris of Boone, expressing the opinion that in the revision work of the session there should be uniformity in establishing penalties for misdemeanors. This resolution followed the endorsement of a bill, introduced by Senator Mayes, who is a member of the Revision Commission, fixing the maximum punishment for misdemeanors at one year in jail and fine of $1,000.

Nearly all of the numerous laws on the statutes carrying misdemeanor penalties differ one from the other. The idea is that the Legislature should fix a general maximum imprisonment and fine, and that the courts should have control of fixing the penalties within the limits of the statutes, each case according to its offense.

REVOLT WAS BRITISH

Frau Von Hindenburg Says Revolution Was Started by Allied Spies.

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, March 20.—British sailors disguised as German sailors organized and started the Kiel revolt which was the initial movement in the German revolution. Frau Von Hindenburg charged in an interview with the United Press. Frau Von Hindenburg, who is a sister-in-law of the field marshal, is a daughter of Munster and was familiar with the intrigues and intrigues of the European diplomatic circles.

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg believes the German army was never defeated militarily, but was stabbed in the back by the revolution, according to his sister-in-law. "The marshal's greatest failure was his source of information," she said. "He was told the U-boats would keep the Americans away and there would never be more than 200,000 of them in France."

"He believed victory was certain up to August, then he planned to retreat to the boundary and there stand like an iron wall until satisfactory terms were offered, but traitors stole his plans. The traitors cut communications and supplies in the rear before the revolution broke out. Some divisions were without food four days. Two surrendered because of hunger."

$60 Payment Applies to All Soldiers Discharged Since April 6, 1917.

NAMES THREE ROADS TO HELL

Preoccupation Is One That Leads to Downward Path, Says Evangelist.

Preoccupation, indifference and ingratitude are the three roads by which Columbians are going to Hell, said the Rev. D. L. Coale, Texas evangelist, in his sermon at the Broadway Methodist Church last night. Speaking of preoccupation, he said that business men are too absorbed in how to get rich and how to stay rich. "The church is concerned with just one thing," the Reverend Coale said, "to save all the men and all the women of all the nations. Jesus is not concerned about only a chosen few. He is not a respecter of persons. He is anxious about the salvation of all who will come to him."

The text for the evening was: "You will not come unto me," said Jesus, "that you may have light."

The text for tonight has not been announced.

TEACHERS ORGANIZE FOR SALARY RAISE

Committee Appointed to Give Publicity to Needs and to Tax Resources.

RESULTS BY FALL
Hope to Get Definite Action Before Next School Year Opens.

Practically all of the Columbia school teachers were present at a meeting held at 4:30 yesterday afternoon in the Gordon Hotel Building to formulate plans for carrying on a campaign for raising teachers' salaries 50 per cent.

J. E. McPherson, superintendent of schools, presided at the meeting. He gave the teachers data on the tax laws and on the assessed valuation of land in this school district.

The Columbia teachers realize that the school has done everything possible for them, and that the increase must be gained through an educational campaign among the townspeople. The teachers hope to make sufficient headway so that something can be done for them by next fall or sooner.

One teacher from each school was appointed on a publicity committee to create a favorable sentiment among the tax payers and property owners of Columbia. Miss Howells, teacher at the Jefferson School, was made chairman of this committee.

Another Educational Committee was appointed consisting of three Columbia teachers and Mr. McPherson. Miss Juliet Moss and Frances Cole, teachers in the high school, are members of the committee. Their work will be carried on in connection with the Commercial Club.

In view of this it is pointed out that the President could call an extra session of Congress for May 12—if not before—and allowing for the usual number of days for organization of the House and Senate would be back in time to address it in joint session.
